

Mahaska Chamber & Development Group Communicator

The Mahaska Chamber & Development Group and Mahaska Future View Form 990's are available for inspection.

The ribbon was cut at First Presbyterian Church of Oskaloosa. Cutting the ribbon is member Becky Siefering surrounded by church members, building & grounds committee persons, Pastor Amy McGriff and the Chamber Diplomats. The church has created an accessible entry with 2 handicap parking spots, 2 ramps, 2 doors, inviting landscaping offering valet parking.

Mindy Uitermarkt cuts the ribbon at Eagle's Nest Christian Book Store. She is celebrating six months as the new owner and couldn't thank God and MANY supporters—individuals and churches-- that helped to make the transition. Thanks goes to dedicated employees and volunteers as well. Open M-F 10-5, and Saturday 10-4 you will find not only a retail store with books, Bibles, cards, holiday items, gifts and gift bags, jewelry, children's items, but a listening ear as well. Visit them on Facebook, call 641.673.8776, or stop in on the west side of the Oskaloosa Square.

Lauren Terrell cuts the ribbon at Studio Osky, 212 North Market Street in Oskaloosa at a recent Mahaska Mixer hosted by the Mahaska Chamber Diplomats. Studio Osky is an art collective and gallery featuring art exhibits, artist receptions, open mic nights and more. You will find inviting gathering areas, a large gallery area, and two floors of individual studios many open to the public. This building's history includes being once part of a hospital, and later medical and dental clinics. Visit their Facebook page for a list of vendors and events, email createstudioosky@gmail.com or call 641.672.4444.

Al Bunnell, store manager, cuts the ribbon at the GRAND OPENING of Tractor Supply, 1508 3rd Ave. East, Oskaloosa, surrounded by employees, Chamber Diplomats, FFA members, Law Enforcement, Fire Dept. and friends. You can find everything you may need there and even some things you may not know yet that you need.

Ruth DeJong, husband Mark and daughter Cassandra cut the ribbon at Bee Cozy in the Penn Central Mall. This KIOSK offers all things comforting and cozy for gifts or for self. There are soaps, chocolates, coffees, night clothes, slippers, jewelry, blankets, candles and more. Over half of the products are from woman owned companies. Many others are handcrafted with pride and made in the USA. Hours now are Mon-Sat. 11 am - 3 pm, Friday evening from 5-8 pm, with additional hours for Mall events or holidays.
